

New RTCI Certificate - “Connecting Health with Learning- A Bridge to Wellness and Achievement”

Thiells, NY- In response to the public’s request for more professional development opportunities for area educators on connecting health with learning, the Rockland Teachers’ Center Institute is offering a new certificate, “Connecting Health with Learning- A Bridge to Wellness and Achievement”. In order to receive their certificate, students must complete nine graduate credits (3 courses) from a menu of selections. “Learning in Motion- Physical Activity, the Brain and Achievement” is required for this certificate.

For more information about this exciting and timely new certificate, to get the details about all the course options, and to register, go to: www.rockteach.org. There you will find all current RTCI course offerings are available at the link: MyLearningPlan.com. You any also call Marianne Smith, (845) 942-7604, at the Rockland Teachers’ Center Institute.

The Rockland Teachers’ Center Institute is a non-profit organization offering professional development courses and Master’s Degree programs for educators, enrichment programs for students, as well as cultural activities and technology training for the community.